Unregistered Park & Garden:

Blyth Cemetery

NCC/BDC Ref:

UPG04

Date(s):
Early-C20

Description & historic information:

Early-20th century cemetery, L-shape, recently extended to south. Front boundary has rusticated stone wall with iron railings and a pair of iron gates. A section of iron railings also exists on the northern boundary, with a section of brick wall to the south. Hedges mark the majority of the site's boundary. Cemetery contains the grade II listed Blyth & Hodsock War Memorial, unveiled 17[i] December 1922 (see Bassetlaw Outdoor War Memorial Survey[ii] for further details) and also the graves of the First Baron Lord Barnby (of Blyth Hall) and Henry Mellish (of Hodsock Priory). Series of mature and semi-mature trees in site, particularly at north east and south parts of site.

Aerial photograph of Blyth Cemetery, taken 2007 (source: Bassetlaw District Council)

Front boundary wall and railings with War Memorial behind

Entrance gates, gate piers, boundary wall and railings

Grave of Lord Barnby

Grave of Henry Mellish

Bassetlaw
DISTRICT COUNCIL
— North Nottinghamshire —
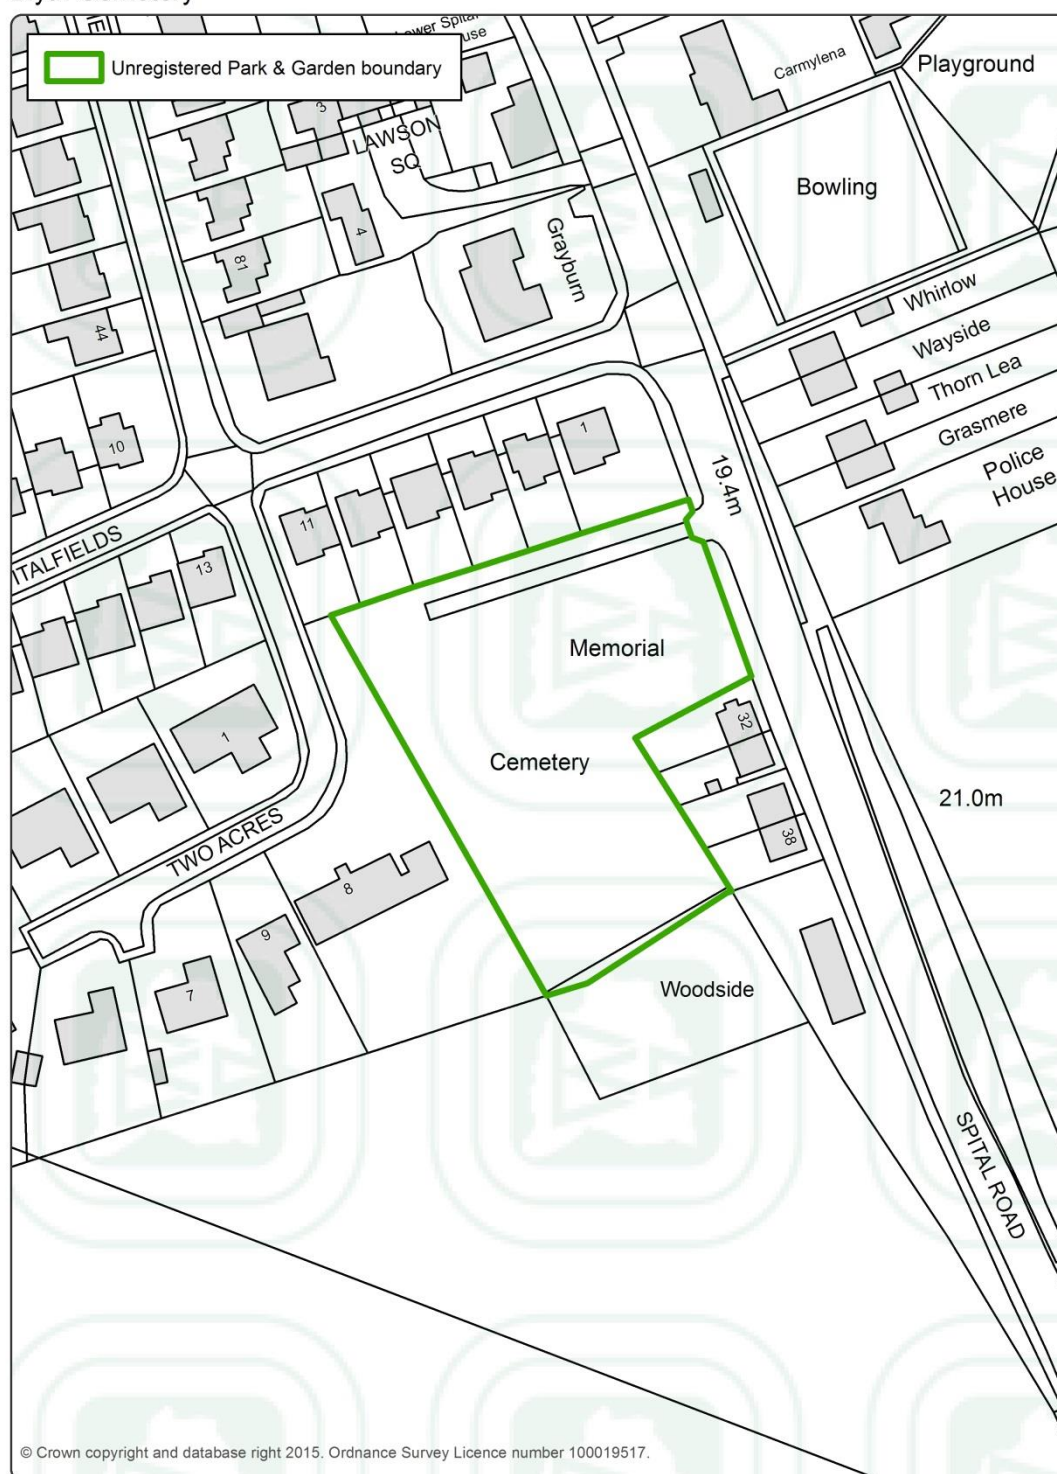

Features of significance:
Front boundary has stone wall with iron railings, pair of stone gate piers and iron gates. Section of iron railings on northern boundary. Site contains the grade II listed Blyth & Hodsock War Memorial (unveiled 17th December 1922). Also contains Celtic cross gravestone of Henry Mellish (of Hodsock Priory) and plinth and cross monument for First Baron Lord Barnby (of Blyth Hall). Range of other monuments including unusual sundial monument on column plinth. Hedges around much of boundary and various trees within the site.

Sundial monument

Listed Buildings:	Blyth & Hodsock War Memorial (Grade II)
Scheduled Ancient Monuments:	n/a
Conservation Area:	n/a
Local Interest Buildings:	n/a

Blyth Cemetery

Unregistered Park & Garden boundary

© Crown copyright and database right 2015. Ordnance Survey Licence number 100019517.

Bassetlaw
DISTRICT COUNCIL
— North Nottinghamshire —

References:

[i] Worksop Guardian; 22nd December 1922

[ii] Bassetlaw District Council; Bassetlaw Outdoor War Memorials Survey - 2015 Update; November 2015.

Additional information on this site may be found on the Historic Environment Record held and maintained by Nottinghamshire County Council.